

At Parklands Nursery School and Playgroup, we feel it is important for the children to feel relaxed and "at home" in our environment. It is when the children feel comfortable, relaxed and confident, with sense of high self-esteem, they are open to new ideas and experiences, are able to concentrate and to learn.

We work in partnership with parents in promoting children's learning and we know that parents play an important role and are their child's first educators.
